Copyright Assignment

Date: _____ Manuscript No.: _____ Journal: _____

Manuscript Title: _____

1) I attest that I am the sole author or one of the authors of the manuscript specified above. In consideration of the action taken by the Journal of Neurosurgery Publishing Group (JNSPG) in reviewing and editing this manuscript, I hereby assign, transfer, and convey all rights, title, and interest in the work and its accompanying original tables, figures, and podcasts (with the term “figures” referring to illustrations, photographs, scans, images, sonograms, diagrams, graphs, flow charts, videos, etc.), including copyright ownership, to the American Association of Neurosurgeons (AANS) in the event that this work is published by the JNSPG. In the event that this manuscript is accepted and I am asked to respond to an editorial about my paper, I also assign, transfer, and convey all rights, title, interest, and copyright related to my response to the AANS. In making this assignment of ownership, I understand that all accepted manuscripts become the permanent property of the JNSPG and may not be published elsewhere without written permission from the JNSPG. Note: No manuscript may be submitted to more than one JNSPG journal at the same time, and no manuscript will be published in more than one JNSPG journal.

2) The authors affirm that this submission is an original work and has not been published elsewhere in whole or part, except in abstract form; that this submission has not been posted on a preprint server; that this submission does not contain any material that is libelous, defamatory, or otherwise unlawful; and that this submission does not contain any material that invades the right of privacy or any proprietary right. The author affirms that he/she has the right to assign copyright to text, figures, and tables, and that no portion of the copyright of this submission has been assigned previously, except that stated on the following page. The author further affirms that if this contribution contains materials that have been previously published and are copyrighted by another person, the author has obtained, or will obtain, permission for publication from the copyright holder and will submit a copy of the permission release to the JNSPG.

3) The authors state that this submission contains no plagiarized material. Plagiarism is the use of another’s published or unpublished ideas, words, data, graphics, or other intellectual property without proper acknowledgment of the source. This includes both repeating something verbatim and paraphrasing it without appropriate attribution (reference citation) and, depending on the type or length of the material, without permission from the copyright holder. Self-plagiarism, also known as redundant or duplicate publication, is included in this definition. Authors should contact the editorial office if they want additional information on precisely what constitutes plagiarism, how to avoid it, and how JNSPG will respond to its discovery.

4) With respect to the manuscript specified above, I affirm that I am the sole author or one author as defined in the Uniform Requirements for Manuscripts Submitted to Biomedical Journals: Writing and Editing for Biomedical Publication (<http://www.icmje.org>), which states that authorship should reflect all three of the following criteria:

- “substantial contributions to conception and design, or acquisition of data, or analysis and interpretation of data”
- “drafting the article or revising it critically for important intellectual content”
- “final approval of the version to be published”

5) It is understood that the author will not receive any royalty or other monetary compensation for transferring copyright ownership to the AANS. If this manuscript is not accepted for publication, the copyright assignment has no legal effect.

 In order for your submission to be handled efficiently, please include all 3 pages when submitting this form to the Editorial Office.

Inclusion of Materials Copyrighted Elsewhere

Although the JNSPG prefers that all contents of articles be original, we allow the inclusion of copyrighted figures, tables, audios, videos, or substantial portions of text (more than 200 consecutive words) if the material has already been published elsewhere. If the material has not been published elsewhere, copyright must be transferred to the AANS.

List any copyrighted material in your submission that has been previously published, the name of the publication in which it first appeared, and the name of the copyholder:

To include the aforementioned materials in our journals, the JNSPG must receive from the copyright holder a nonexclusive worldwide license allowing the JNSPG to reprint the material in all languages, all types of media, and all future editions. It is the author's responsibility to obtain this license and forward it to the JNSPG editorial office.

To assist you in obtaining the appropriate license, we provide a permission form (Permission Request) that may be submitted to the copyright holder. Note: all licenses must cover the items bolded in the previous paragraph. After permission has been obtained, forward the signed permission form to the editorial office.

Do you need to obtain such a license from a copyright holder? yes no
(Note: Do this as soon as possible; some publishers require a long waiting period.)

Have you already obtained a nonexclusive worldwide license allowing the JNSPG to reprint the material in all languages, all types of media, and all future editions? yes no

If permission has not been obtained, the Permission Request form is available for download on the Author Instructions page of any of the JNSPG submission sites.

If the copyright holder has specified a particular manner in which to be credited, please list it here:

Statement of Federal Employment

I was an employee of the United States Federal government when this work was prepared for publication. Therefore it is not protected by the Copyright Act, and there is no copyright of which ownership can be assigned.

By placing my signature below, I affirm that I have approved the contents of this paper and agree to its submission. I also attest that I agree to Paragraphs 2 through 4 with the exception of statements about copyright transfer.

(Each signature must belong to the author specified and must be original.)

Acknowledgment

(To be completed by the Corresponding Author ONLY.)

All persons who have made substantial contributions to the work reported in the manuscript but are not listed as authors, including those who provided editing and writing assistance, are named in the Acknowledgment section of the manuscript and have given me their written permission to be named. If the manuscript as submitted does not include an Acknowledgment, it is because the authors have not received any substantial contributions from nonauthors.
